LOG BEARS LINCOLN'S NAME.

William Morgan's Contribution to

Illinois Historical Society. SPRINGFIELD, IU., April 21.-William Morgan, residing at Osbornville, in Christian county, yesterday carried to the statehouse a piece of red elm log, meas-uring nineteen and one-half inches in length and bearing on one side the carved inscription: 'A. Lincoln, March 7, 1832." Mr. Morgan, who has been the possessor of the log for more than a year, gave it into the keeping of the Illinois State Historical Society. That the log, found a little over a year ago in a pile of drift in the Sangamor river, was originally carved by Lincoln is the belief of Morgan and his neigh-

Quotes From Report.

Mr. Hotchkiss quoted from an insurance report, published in March, 1905, pointing out that the directors had committed themselves to mutualization at that time, and urged that if legislation on the subject is to be had it ought to be sought from the present legislature.

Following Mr. Hotchkiss' address the directors adopted the following resolution: our export trade has amounted to more Arthur MacArthur Washburn.
